KEYNOTE SPEAKER

David B. Falk is the founder and CEO of Falk Associates Management Enterprises (FAME) and one of the most influential figures in the history of professional sports. Over a career spanning five decades, he has represented more NBA first-round draft selections, lottery picks, and All-Stars than any other agent in the business.

Falk began his career at ProServ in 1974, rising to Vice Chairman before founding FAME in 1992. He negotiated the highest contracts in NBA history for Patrick Ewing in 1985 and Danny Ferry in 1990, and in 1996 secured professional sports' first $100 million contract for Alonzo Mourning — part of an unprecedented six-day free agency period in which FAME negotiated more than $400 million in contracts. That same year, he negotiated Michael Jordan's landmark $30 million salary, then the highest in NBA history.

Falk is equally renowned as a sports marketing innovator. In 1985, he negotiated Jordan's groundbreaking partnership with Nike — coining the nickname "Air Jordan" — widely considered the most successful endorsement relationship in history. He also served as executive producer of the 1996 film Space Jam and the critically acclaimed documentary Michael Jordan to the Max.

A 1972 honors graduate of Syracuse University with a Bachelor of Arts in economics, Falk earned his J.D. with honors from George Washington University Law School in 1975. In 2010, a generous gift from David and Rhonda Falk established the Falk College of Sport at Syracuse University. He serves on the Board of Trustees for Syracuse University and the Board of Advisors for George Washington University's National Law Center.
