LILYAN MINICOZZI '26

Lilyan Minicozzi of Rome, New York, will graduate with a bachelor of industrial design degree in industrial and interaction design and a minor in sustainability in design. She is a VPA Scholar, a VPA Leadership Scholar, and has been on the VPA's Dean's List since the first semester of her first year.

During her time at Syracuse, Lilyan studied abroad at the Daniel and Gayle D'Aniello Syracuse University Program in Florence, Italy. She served as president (2024-26) and secretary (2023-24) of the student chapter of the Industrial Designers Society of America (IDSA) and received the University's IDSA Merit Award.

As a designer, Lilyan brings together craft, storytelling, and systems thinking to create meaningful work that contributes to more mindful and sustainable ways of living. She is motivated by the challenge of remanufacturing and drawn to create with reclaimed materials, often transforming what already exists. Her project "Full Circle," which focused on recycling and repurposing used hiking and outdoor equipment, received a $7,000 grant from the Center for Fellowship and Scholarship Advising and the Syracuse Office of Undergraduate Research and Creative Engagement. She is the co-recipient of a $15,000, first-place award from the University's inaugural Green Innovation Competition, for which she proposed a novel waste-reduction and recycling system on campus.

Lilyan is the founder and owner of LilacSun, an online business that provides handcrafted clothing, jewelry, and accessories as well as product alteration, repair, and upcycling services.

Lilyan's family includes her parents, Mark and Karin, and several Syracuse University alumni: grandparents Faith Murphy G'90 and Francis Minicozzi '70 and sisters Kayleigh '08, Madelyn '18, and Abigail '24. Her brother Benjamin '24 and sister Ellyza '28 are affiliated with the SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry.
